REV. WATSON'S BABY BURNED TO DEATH

Mrs. Frank Clay Receives Distressing News of Death of Little Nephew in Owsley

The 11-months-old son of Rev. and Mrs. George Watson burned to death at the home of its parents in Booneville, Owsley county late Sunday, according to a message which Mrs. Frank Clay, sister of the father, received early Monday morning.

Mr. Watson was so overcome with grief that he was unable to give many details. It seems that in some way though, the mosquito netting over the little fellow's crib caught fire while the parents were out of the room. They came in and found their baby burned almost to a crisp.

The funeral will be held at Frankfort Tuesday and Mrs. Clay will go over to be with her brother and family.

The baby was born here in Richmond. The father is pastor of the Presbyterian church at Booneville. He has many friends all over the state who will extend deepest sympathy.

'SQUIRE' JONES IS IN JAILER'S RACE

Interest was added to the county political races this week when S. D. Jones, better known to his friends as "Squire" Jones, authorized the Daily Register announce him as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for jailer, subject to the primary on August 6. Mr. Jones is one of the best known Democrats in town and has always worked hard for the success of his party. He has a wide acquaintance all over the county and his friends say that the man who defeats him will know that he has been to the races. His friends say he has already received assurances of strong support and intends to make an active canvass for the honor he asks of his party. Mr. Jones nor any of his family have ever held political office before and they have been Democrats and worked for the success of the party at all times, and this is the first honor they have asked.

WOODS ENDORSES GOLDEN CANDIDACY

Former Mayor of Richmond Writes From Florida a Strong Letter of Commendation Monteverde, Fla., April 14.

I note my friend, Robert Golden is a candidate for Mayor of Richmond. I hope he will succeed without opposition and become the next Mayor. Why not let everybody unite and harmonize on this excellent, hardworking, upright, cheerful and popular citizen? He is honest; he is competent; and he is fearless.

Theodore Roosevelt asserted that any man, no matter who liked or disliked him, would make a success as a public servant, if he possessed just three traits of character, honesty, ability and courage. Roosevelt compared that kind of a man to a three-legged stool. As a stool could not stand without three legs, so no man could make an ideal official without all three of those characteristics, honesty, ability and courage. Grant that he has any two of them and lacks the third, that candidate is not equipped to make a safe official. Two good legs do not make a good stool.

Think it over, dear friends. Honesty, while admirable and important, is not everything. Ability, while important, is not everything. Courage to do right, is admirable, but it is not everything. Neither are honesty and ability everything. If a man has these two qualities and is a moral coward, he is dangerous, for he may not and cannot have the courage to do what his honesty and ability dictate. And so goes. Brilliance of intellect is grand, but honesty and integrity is to be preferred above it.

I do not mind saying there are many men equal to or superior to Bob Golden in any one or in any two of the traits Roosevelt named as requisite to a model officer, but you nor I can hardly name on one hand men who are superior to plain, jolly Bob Golden in all three of the qualities named. He therefore is a living example of the unusual qualities necessary to a successful if not brilliant officer, and I would be content to lie down at night and feel assured that government was safe under the administration of this man. His long experience on the council only increases the expectancy of his efficient administration. A tree is judged by its fruit. His record is known already, and he made good with head, hands and heart—all that God gave him, and these are offered to Richmond in hope of further and larger service.

Having known, admired and even loved this big man always, trusted him, found him never deficient in essentials to good citizenship, I hope my friends view, as I do, the candidacy of Robert Golden as a fine opportunity to promote the welfare of my beloved home city, and will encourage no opposition to his election. Loyally,

CLARENCE E. WOODS, Ex-Mayor of Richmond; Field Agent, Monteverde, Fla., Industrial School.

JUDGE PRICE ASKS FOR ENDORSEMENT

The Daily Register is today authorized to announce as a candidate for re-nomination and re-election, Judge W. K. Price, subject to the Republican primary on August 6.

Judge Price is finishing out his first term of four years, and in support of his request for an endorsement he and his friends are pointing to the record that he has made during that time. That Judge Price has made a fair and impartial judge, not swayed by partiality or prejudice, will not be denied by any man who has watched his work during his term. He has endeavored to give every man a square deal, and to do what is right.

In making his announcement Judge Price says that on account of the war and high prices of labor, material and other handicaps, he has not been enabled to do the things for the county generally that he had hoped to do. He thinks that if the people will give him an endorsement he will be able to get more things done during the next four years and for this reason is announcing as a candidate for re-election. He says that he has at all time endeavored to do his duty and to do right as between man and man and this he pledges himself to continue to do, if he is re-nominated and re-elected.

HELPING ELOPERS PROVES EXPENSIVE

Well Known Men of Valley View Get $100 Fines, While Would-be Groom is Held Over

It doesn't pay to fool with elopements, especially if the elopement doesn't turn out altogether successfully, as Granville Kelly, Sr., and Wesley Kidwell, both of the Valley View section, found out when they were fined $100 and costs in county court last week by Judge Price. Mr. Kelly is the father of Granville Kelly, Jr., who tried to elope with the 12-year-old daughter of Burrell Rhodus to Jeffersonville, Ind. Mr. Rhodus also lives at Valley View. The young man was held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a girl under 16 years old. Bob Kelly and Tom Jones went on his bond. His case will be heard by the grand jury, which convenes Tuesday.

Young Kelly and the girl were gone a week. It was alleged that Mr. Kidwell went to a school house and got the girl in a buggy and helped them get to Lexington from which place they took a train to Jeffersonville, Ind., to get married. Mr. Rhodus learned of their plans and soon got in touch with police and told them his daughter was only 12 years old. Young Kelly, therefore, was unable to get a license and the wedding was called off, and they finally got back to their homes, and the charges that brought the men before county court were filed.

ALLIES GIVE HUNS 12 DAYS TO ANSWER

(By Associated Press)

London, May 2—The Allied Supreme Council received the report of the council of Foreign Ministers today and agreed in principle to a plan to present an ultimatum to Germany and for military measures to be used if Germany defaults. The Ministers met first and drafted an ultimatum, which provided that Germany within 12 days answer yes or no to the Allied reparations demands or suffer military and naval penalties, and negotiations considered at an end and no German conditions will be accepted. The military measures include French mobilization of 150,000 men to occupy the Ruhr Valley while England is planning demonstrations in the North Sea if the Germans refuse to yield.

Washington, May 2—Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, called on Secretary of State Charles Hughes today. Official announcement was withheld but it was understood that German reparations was not mentioned. The situation was just where it was Saturday night when it was stated the United States would determine its own course after learning officially of the Allied Supreme Council's action.

MAY GIVE FISH FRY FOR DR. MAYO PARTY

Famous Surgeon From Minnesota Is At Boonesboro With Friends On Steamer

Dr. William Mayo and his party from Rochester, Minn., have been at Boonesboro and other local points on the Kentucky river for the past several days. Drs. D. J. Williams, Moss Gibson and other local physicians have called on them and given them a hearty welcome to the garden spot of Kentucky. They are planning a big fish fry and reception for the distinguished guests some evening this week.

The Mayos and party left Rochester April 9. On the return trip from the head of the Kentucky river, the "Minnesota" will stop at Frankfort, where Dr. Mayo and Mrs. Mayo will disembark and take a train for home. Dr. Charles Mayo, his brother, and another party will join the "Minnesota" and another trip will be made up the Kentucky river to the foothills of the mountains, amid the scenery which Dr. Mayo says is unsurpassed in America. With their automobiles on board the Mayos and their guests may take side trips at their convenience and pick up the yacht further on.

The steamer has accommodations for 25 and is tastefully furnished. The yacht "Minnesota" is 140 feet long over all and has thirty-foot beam. She is of very light draft and can penetrate streams further up than most vessels. The Minnesota's main salon extends from end to end of the vessel and the dining salon is aft, extending from side to side of the boat. There is a private bath for every one of her staterooms. J. J. Richmond is her master. Doctor Mayo's guests are Dr. R. H. Hart, of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodling, Mrs. N. Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kayler, and Mrs. Gertrude Berkmar, sister of the Doctors Mayo, all of Rochester. The Minnesota took her owners to New Orleans in 1920.

Tom Moore Got the Pie Intended for Mr. O'Grady

Tom Moore, who makes believe he is a policeman in developing the story for "Officer 666" a Goldwyn picture which comes to the local theatres today, had a profitable and amusing experience during a rush day at the studio. When lunch was called a crowd of extras had filled the dining room. Mr. Moore accordingly dashed across the street in make-up to an outside restaurant. The waitress was especially affable to him.

"Mr. Murphy tells me about you," she smiled.

"Kind of Murphy," grinned the comedian.

The girl behind the counter kept up a running fire of chatter and proceeded to give excellent service and quantities of food finishing by bringing forth a wonderful dish of chocolate pie.

"I beg your pardon," stammered the actor, "I didn't ask for pie."

"I know," she snickered, "but this is a present from me."

"Well, just to show you I am grateful," laughed Moore, and he proceeded to clean the plate. The girl refused to accept any pay for his dinner and was indignant when he left the money on the counter.

As he was leaving the restaurant he met a policeman entering. The bluecoat walked over to the girl at the counter.

"My name's O'Grady," he said. "I'm the new policeman on this beat. Did Murphy tell you about me?"

"Then who's that man," gasped the girl, pointing at Moore.

"That, ah don't you know him. That's Tom Moore, the movie actor. He's just playing the part

NEXT CHURCH LEAGUE GAME ON TUESDAY

The next game of the Richmond Church League will be on Tuesday afternoon, May 3d. The contenders will be the Methodist and the Second Christian nines. The latter are leading the league and are determined to hold first place, they say. Of course, the other boys are going to try mighty hard to pull them down. The game Tuesday will be called at 3:30 o'clock.

President Deatherage has called a meeting of the league directors for Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Masonic Club for the purpose of hearing protests filed against the last game by the Calvary Baptist team. Captain Jim Shaw has formally filed a written protest with the president on account of certain decisions of Umpire Norman. President Deatherage and the league directors will act upon the matter at that time.

On account of the possibility of Eastern Normal having game here Wednesday with Transylvania University, of Lexington, President Deatherage has not scheduled a game for that date. However, by Tuesday he hopes to know whether a game can be played Wednesday. If not, the next game will be played Thursday afternoon.

The following from a paper of Clarksville, Tennessee, will be of interest here where Miss Hill had charge of music at Caldwell school a few years ago, and made a host of friends here who are interested in her success:

"Without the splendid cooperation of Miss Hill the work of the schools would not be possible," said Mr. Stone, Director of Community Music. "I really believe that we are most fortunate in having such a competent public school music director as Miss Hill in Clarksville and the work of the students here shows the training which she has given them."

Coats for Little Folks

IN COATS for little folks as in their hats, the season repeats many style features of importance in grown-up apparel. "Just like mama's" appears to be a strong argument in favor of anything that little ladies find of their own choosing. In utility coats there are such amusing little affairs as the miniature shown above where a brown, rough surface cloth is made up with machine stitching for decoration on its wide, cape collar and roomy sleeves and a narrow belt that crosses at the front and buttons at each side. It is as much like grown-ups' in these features as it can be.

Similar coats with narrower collars are shown in sturdy wool materials woven in youthful pattern, as black and white checks, tan or grey with small cross bars in green or red—navy and red—or other lively combinations. It is the material that is featured in these and not the style which is simply the straight coat with plain sleeve and round collar. They fasten with bone buttons. The very little girls are indulged in pretty taffeta or crepe coats. Here also they follow the lead of grown-ups, for the display reveals many models in gray, bisque and light beige, but blue and rose color have not been entirely neglected and a whole bevy of cherry-red taffeta coats find enthusiastic admirers in the little folk, and among their mothers. Many of the silk and crepe coats have bonnets to match.

Between the utility coat and these splendid silk affairs for state occasions, there are pretty models made of light-weight velours, broadcloth and often these are decorated with a little embroidery in the color of the coat. Poirer twill is another favored fabric and covert cloth will never be out-rivalled. It is shown with machine stitching for a finish with bone buttons one looks for in its company. Many cloth coats are double breasted and an occasional model features buttons in two rows down the front of the double breast.

May Day Quiet

(By Associated Press)
Columbus, O., May 2—A quiet observance of May Day throughout the United States despite attempts to agitate demonstrations through the distribution of literature "gives assurance of a return to normal conditions in America," said a statement issued here today by Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty.

The Attorney General said reports to the Department of Justice from every section of the country showed quiet. He declared the "country is settling down to a patriotic program, and asserted that "disturbances of any character threatened to be unpopular any place." "I think," he added, "we need less watching and more work in this country."

LACKEY WINS FINE GAME FOR NORMAL

Sue Bennett Institute of London Again Defeated by Eastern's Fast Ball Tossers

It took the crack Normal team ten innings to overcome Sue Bennett Memorial in the second game of the series on the Normal diamond Saturday, Lackey scored the winning run in the tenth inning and his triple in the first inning accounted for one run. His work on ground balls and in the box was sensational, handling six chances with no errors and fanning ten men.

Combs saved the game in the eighth for Eastern with a home-run between right and center. The hit proved to be one of the longest made on the local diamond for many seasons, going to the pavement on the south side of the training school building. He also led the Normalites in hitting with three hits out of five times up.

The first man up in the tenth for Normal struck out. Then Lackey hit for a single over second. This was followed by a triple over the left fielder's head by Fox which broke up the game. The Normal fans then smothered Fox with cheers and praise which he fully deserved. His work behind the plate also proved to be a high brand.

Watkins helped himself out of several holes by timely hits, and good pitching. Fitzgerald, the Sue Bennett center fielder, robbed several Normalites of hits by his sensational fielding.

A game is to be arranged with Transylvania University here on Wednesday if possible. The Normal team goes to Lincoln Memorial Institute for games on the 6th and 7th of May.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES CAN'T CONTRACT

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., April 30.—No person is eligible to hold the office of graded common school trustee who is directly interested in any contract with the board or who holds any position under the board, according to a letter now being sent to chairmen of boards of trustees throughout the state by State Superintendent of Public Instruction George Colvin. If any member of the candidate's family is employed in any capacity or is interested in the sale of goods or property to the board, this also renders him ineligible. The letter also calls attention to a provision of the law which states that when a member of the board moves out of the district his office automatically becomes vacant.

The letter also calls attention to the provision that all graded school districts must either maintain a proper high school or pay tuition for all pupils who are eligible and enter a high school. The qualifications of teachers are also set forth.

MAY 8 WILL BE MOTHERS' DAY

Sunday, May 8, will be Mothers' Day, when the mothers of the world, living and departed, will be honored by their children. Not only on this day, but during every day in the year, should the tribute of love be paid to "the most wonderful mother who ever lived," but on this occasion it would be well to pay her a public honor.

It is the custom to wear white flowers, preferably carnations, in honor of the mothers who are gone, and brighter hued blossoms for those who are yet living.

There is no friend like the mother, and no love like the mother-love. If your own mother is still living, let this be a reminder to send her a cheering letter or some little gift with a word of love, or, better still, go to see her, and feel again her loving arms about your neck.

It will bring joy to her dear old heart, and you will be the better for it. If your mother has passed away, go on "Mothers' Day" to her last resting place and place a blossom there. Let the memory of her gentle smile and soft voice and hands and her tender affection serve as a light upon your daily pathway.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.
In Belgium.

Hunger, disease and exposure were not all that Belgian children were subjected to, for enemy shells constantly dropped into what little of their country the invader did not hold. In this picture Red Cross nurses are seen taking some of the fifty babies from the American Red Cross nursery at La Panne into a bomb-proof structure as the Germans opened fire from the sea.

In response to the inquiry of many telephone subscribers: "What can I do to help my service?" this advertisement is published.

The Right Way Saves Annoyance

There are two ways to call a telephone number.

The wrong way is to call from memory; to "take a chance," to trust to luck that your memory doesn't play a trick on you, with the fickle figures in a telephone number.

The right way is to consult the Telephone Directory before calling and make sure you have the right number.

The right way saves annoyance to yourself and to the persons you might have called by mistake. It helps build up a higher grade of service for yourself and others. It eliminates useless calls which hamper service.

CHRISTIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL SETS RECORD

A new high attendance record for this section of the state was set by the Bible School at the First Christian church Sunday, when the attendance reached 775. This school has been growing rapidly during recent months under the leadership of W. Jack Wages, but made a new record Sunday. This is the largest school ever assembled in Richmond, but with the excellent organization it was handled in a very orderly way.

The Primary department under the leadership of Mrs. George Simmons had 132 in attendance, while the big Young People's Class had the record attendance of 227. The men's class, taught by Mr. Turley, counted 175, while the women's class taught by Mr. Baldwin and Mrs. E. T. Burman, totaled 89. The other departments headed by Mrs. J. W. Arnold and Mrs. Robert Boggs, reached their highest attendance. James W. Hamilton is head of the big adult department.

There are few better Bible School organizations in the state than this. An absentee teacher is a notable exception and the big attendance of Sunday was without any sort of high pressure methods.

A new Bible School orchestra made its appearance yesterday and will be a valuable addition to the work. Headed by Fred Davison assisted by Ed Warford, Miss Mattie Jo Deatherage, Miss Ibbie Millon, Charles Nelson, Miss Emma Davison, with Mrs. Frank Barnett at the piano, this musical group gives promise of becoming a very interesting feature of the school.

At the close of the session a beautiful basket of roses was presented to Dr. Carpenter as a token of love and esteem, for him and his family, by the officers and teachers of the school, this being the third anniversary of Dr. Carpenter's ministry in the church.

STATE MUSIC CLUBS TO ORGANIZE HERE

Fourteen Members of National Federation Will Send Delegates Here This Week

The Musical Conference to be held in Richmond on Thursday and Friday of this week is for the purpose of organization. There are fourteen clubs of the State that have membership in the National Federation of Musical Clubs, but a state organization has never been effected. There are at present forty-one organized states and most of them have been working as a state organization for several years.

In the Dixie District, which comprises Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama, Kentucky is the only irregular one in the group. So these clubs come to Richmond this week in response to a call from the State president, Mrs. B. L. Middleton to form themselves into a working unit.

The business sessions are to be held in the Sunday School auditorium of the First Christian church and the public is cordially invited to attend.

The artist concert on Friday night is also open to all music lovers as well as the session on Thursday night at which time also, several musical artists will appear. The concert program with names of the artists will be published later.

BLANTON WINS NORMAL CONTRACT

The contract to furnish coal to Eastern Kentucky State Normal School was awarded at the recent meeting of the Board of Regents to the L. R. Blanton coal firm of this city. The local firm won the contract only after very keen bidding against a number of competitors. The price that it receives for the contract was not made public, but it is understood to have been very close. The calls for 1,400 tons of mine run coal and 50 tons of block coal to be delivered in the bins at the institution by the first of September. George Blanton says this firm is very proud of having landed this contract and that they have the equipment to give the school the very promptest and best service on deliveries.

Storekeepers and Gaugers To Be Warehouse Agents

IRVINE WILL CASE IN CIRCUIT COURT

On account of Monday being court day, Circuit court will not convene until Tuesday morning at which time the grand jury will be empanelled and charged by Judge Shackelford, and then the petit jury will go to work.

There are a number of interesting cases set for hearing at this term of court. One of them is the case for construction of the will of the late Mrs. William Irvine involving as it does disposition of her estate amounting to about $400,000.

Hon. David Irvine, of Kansas City, Mo., is here to watch his interests in the matter. He is a nephew of her late husband and in his will is left the large farm at the corner of the Barnes Mill pike and the Lancaster pike. One of the conditions was that he drop the White from his name, as his name originally was David Irvint White. This he did by a decree of circuit court in Kansas City. Mr. Irvine has many warm friends here who are giving him a cordial welcome.

ZINKE HITS THE SAWDUST TRAIL

Many friends here of Dr. Zinke will be interested in the following about him from the Cincinnati Post of one day last week: Zinke On 'Trail'

Dr. Gustave Zinke, member of the Board of Health, hit the sawdust trail in Billy Sunday's tabernacle Tuesday night.

"In my opinion Mr. Sunday has done a greater work for Cincinnati than any man has done in the 45 years I have lived here," Dr. Zinke said, Wednesday.

"Spiritually and morally he is to a city what a Board of Health is to the physical being of the community."

"He is a great man and has done a wonderful work. I have been to his tabernacle a number of times, and I think better of him each time."

Dr. Zinke is not a new convert—he hit the trail in reconsecration.
